

We are happy to announce our own training center for CPR and First Aid classes. We have already held a Wilderness First Aid Course and were able to do this for BSA registered volunteers for just the cost of the Field Guide that came with the course ($25.00). Future CPR and First Aid classes can be done for even less ($12.00). There are also online training options that can be done at home leaving only the skills check in the classroom setting. Additional information is below.
